DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's Appeal Brief Filed on 08/15/2008 has been entered into record. Claims 23-44 are currently pending.
2. Amendment received on 02/02/2007 was entered into record. Claims 23, 26 and 44 were amended.
3. Applicant's submission filed on 08/30/2006 was entered. Claims 1-22 were cancelled. Claims 23-44 were new.
4. Amendment received on 01/19/2006 was entered. Claim 22 was new.
5. Amendment received on 06/24/2005 was entered. Claims 1, 16 and 19 were amended.

Priority

6. This application has no priority claim made. The filing date is 02/21/2002.

Reasons for Allowance

7. Claims 23-44 are allowed as per amendment received on 02/02/2007.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior arts of record issued to Jijina et al. (US 20030103599 A1), Mizikovsky (US 5559860 A) and Nascimento (US 20020128000 A1) together fail to teach or suggest "a method for notifying a customer of a message available for delivery via a client vehicle communication unit (VCU) installed in a vehicle of the customer, the method comprising the steps of: establishing a connection between a server and the client VCU; sending a query to the client VCU from the server for an indication of whether the customer is available in the vehicle for receiving the message; sending a message to the client VCU for delivery to the customer if the server receives the indication that the customer is available; and if the server does not receive the indication that the customer is available for receiving the message, then performing any one or more of the following: i) sending a failed delivery message to the client VCU, ii) sending the message to the client for storage on the client VCU, or iii) retrying delivery of the message to the client VCU at a later time after a time interval" in combination with all the elements of each independent claim as argued by Applicant [See section vii, Argument as per appellant's Appeal Brief Filed on 08/15/2008]. Applicant argues that Jijina is of prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(c) and assigned to the common assignee of current application as of on 01/30/2202. Thus the claim rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as per office action mailed on 02/15/2008 was not proper. Examiner has searched the claimed invention as per amendment received on 02/02/2007 and concluded that Jijina, Mizikovsky and Nascimento are still the closet arts to the current claimed invention. Applicant has previously argued on rejections of the same claim set under 35 U.S.C. §

102(e) as per office action mailed on 04/27/2007 that Jijina does not disclose or suggest the limitation combination of “querying a client VCU from a server for an indication of the availability of the customer for receiving a message”, “sending a message to the client VCU if the server receives an indication that the customer is available” and “the delivery steps of claim 23 if the server does not receive indication that the customer is available” as per pages 7-9 of appellant’s Appeal Brief Filed on 11/27/2007. This argument is considered persuasive based upon the search result on the current claimed invention in light of applicant’s original specification and claim set.

The dependent claims further limit the independent claims and are considered allowable on the same basis as the independent claims as well as for the further limitations set forth. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
